PROFILE

I am a responsible, dynamic, and creative person with adaptability and a positive attitude towards teamwork. My professional and personal growth is based on continuous learning, my capacity for self-improvement, and adding value in any position I find myself in.

Currently, I have experience in group projects using technologies such as Node.js, Sequelize, PostgreSQL, Redux, and React. In these projects, I have worked collaboratively to develop complete web applications from scratch. I have also worked on individual projects using the same technologies.
